THE CORPS INVESTS IN ADDITIONAL RESOURCES

Following the appointment of a new CEO in January 2007 The Corps, has made a number of key appointments in its sales, marketing and operations departments across the UK. The Corps continues to invest in the best people to drive the business into new markets capitalising on it's strengths as a dedicated international security services provider.

Debbie Foy joins The Corps as regional sales manager for the North, and strengthens the team across the region. With more than 25 years experience in sales across various sectors including her most recent role of regional manager at Mitie.

Stuart Reith also re-joins The Corps as stand-a-lone contracts manager based from the Newcastle office. Stuart returns to The Corps after his time at Mitie. Stuart will work closely with the Newcastle office to strengthen the business in his region and develop new opportunities with the sales team which will achieve growth for The Corps.

Other appointments in the North include a new sales manager, Drew Norton.

The Corps is also investing in its head office team with the addition of a marketing manager, Justine Moon and a finance and operations administration manager, Di Eldred.

Richard Moule, CEO The Corps comments: "The security industry continues to be a highly competitive market where we need to respond fast to new and existing customer needs. I will continue to invest in this business and ensure The Corps has the best people and technology to deliver the highest levels of service in the industry."
