THE CORPS LAUNCH NEW CAREERS WEB PAGE

The Corps launched the new careers section on the company's website on January 24th 2008. The new content is the first major update to the website since its launch in 2007. The new interactive job board is designed to simplify and speed up the recruitment process and has already attracted considerable interest.

The new interactive careers section allows candidates to browse current vacancies, both at head office and for our sites in the UK and Ireland. A search facility, which incorporates drop-down menus and an open search engine tool allows potential candidates to find a suitable role and click through to apply for any of the positions that are advertised and submit a CV online. Applicants receive confirmation automatically and are given reference numbers for all of the positions they apply to. The pages are linked to a vacancy management system which automatically ensures that all information is up-to-date and accurate.

Katie Webber, HR and IT Director, The Corps comments: "The careers page has always been a popular area on the website, but with the additional functionality I am sure we will see an even greater number of page impressions in the coming months.

"The development of the online careers page of our website represents a significant step forward in the way The Corps recruits staff and the simple system will help to ensure that The Corps maintains the commitment to attract the best candidates for all positions."
